

Aug 22, 2017

AAU announced, the Young Professional Program organized by the US

Within its keenness on its graduates, Al Ain University of Science and Technology announced the Young Professional Program of the United States, which is an initiative organized by the United States for the professional and talented youth to give them a work chance with a contract for 3 years in the majors, Management and Administration, Political - Peace and Humanitarian Network, Public Information and Conference Management.

In this context, Dr. Ibtehal Aburezeq, Dean of Student Affairs, stressed on the importance of this chance for the fresh graduates who are looking for a job, to gain different experiences and to identify diverse cultures. She added that, Al Ain University is keen to strength the international relations with other institutions and to consolidate the common culture, as part of its strategy to empower its students and activate their role locally and internationally.

Press Release Link