Al Ain University honors teachers for their efforts

Celebrating World Teachers' Day, the Deanship of Student Affairs at Al Ain University (Al Ain Campus), honored the teachers and students winning in the competition entitled; "A Teacher who has a positive imprint in your life", in the presence of Prof. Ghaleb El-Refae, AAU President, and Prof. Ibtehal Abu Rezeq, Vice President for Development and Follow-up and the Dean of Student Affairs. The teachers were recognized for their efforts in education and their prominent role in the upbringing of future generations.

Prof. El Refae said that the role played by the teacher cannot be described in words, and the ideal, creative and loyal teacher will undoubtedly have an impact forever on the behaviors of students. He also praised the role played by the wise leadership of the UAE in taking care of the teachers and the field of education, stressing that, innovation, leadership, and good citizenship cannot exist without the teacher who instills these qualities in the children.

Prof. Abu Rezeq said that the teacher deserves appreciation and honor for their unlimited support in order to raise an educated generation capable of building the nation.

The winning teachers and participating students praised the opportunity provided by Al Ain University to honor and celebrate outstanding teachers, which made them proud and encouraged them to work harder.

As for the Abu Dhabi Campus, the Deanship of Student Affairs, in cooperation with the College of Education, Humanities and Social Sciences honored a group of secondary school teachers at Ashbal Al-Quds Private Secondary School.

Dr. Hani Al-Jarrah, Deputy Dean of Student Affairs, emphasized that teachers deserve appreciation and honor for their unlimited contributions in order to raise a good and educated generation capable of building the nation.

The teachers also expressed their gratitude for this initiative from Al Ain University, praising the effective role of the university in interacting with the community and participating in national and international events.
